

AMENDMENTS TO THE CLAIMS

Applicant respectfully requests the following amendments to the claim set:

1. (currently amended) A method for coordinating a competitive sporting event comprising the steps of:
receiving prior fight information from at least one user regarding said user's willingness to consider participation in a particular potential sporting event; organizing said information received from said at least one user into an electronically searchable format; and providing access to said information organized into an electronically searchable format to said user and third parties.
2. (currently amended) The method according to claim 1, further comprising the step of proposing a contest in [[a]] the particular sporting event between at least a first user and a second user.
3. (currently amended) The method according to claim 1, further comprising the step of organizing [[a]] the particular sporting event based on said information through the use of a web site and a wide area network.
4. (original) The method according to claim 1, further comprising the step of enabling a sports participant to locate an agent among said information.

5. (previously presented) The method according to claim 1, further comprising the step of providing electronic commerce to purchase sports-related merchandise associated with a selected sports participant.

6. (currently amended) The method according to claim 1, further comprising the step of enabling a first sports participant to challenge a second sports participant in ~~[[a]]~~ the particular sporting event using the information organized therein.

7. (currently amended) The method according to claim 1, further comprising the step of providing each of said at least one users with an an data-information storage location accessible by said user and a portion of which is also accessible by selected of said third parties.

8. (currently amended) A computer apparatus for coordinating a competitive sporting event comprising:

means for receiving prior fight information from at least one user regarding said user's willingness to consider participation in a particular potential competitive sporting event, wherein said prior fight information includes who was a last person said user fought and how long ago, what is said user's win/loss record, and what is said user's desired purse size;

means for organizing said information received from said at least one user into an electronically searchable format; and means for providing access to said information organized into an electronically searchable format to said at least one user and third parties.

9. (currently amended) The apparatus according to claim 8, further comprising means for proposing a contest in ~~[[a]]~~ the particular sporting event between at least a first user and a second user.
10. (currently amended) The system according to claim 8, further comprising means for organizing ~~[[a]]~~ the particular sporting event based on said information through the use of a web site and a wide area network.
11. (original) The system according to claim 8, further comprising means for enabling a sports participant to locate an agent among said information.
12. (previously presented) The system according to claim 8, further comprising means for providing electronic commerce to purchase sports-related merchandise associated with a selected sports participant.
13. (currently amended) The system according to claim 8, further comprising means for enabling a first sports participant to challenge a second sports participant in ~~[[a]]~~ the particular sporting event using the information organized therein.
14. (currently amended) The system according to claim 8, further comprising means for providing each of said at least one user~~[[s]]~~ with an information ~~data~~-storage location accessible by said user and a portion of which is also accessible by selected of said third parties.

15. (currently amended) A method for coordinating a competitive boxing match comprising the steps of:

receiving prior fight information from at least one boxer regarding said boxer's willingness to consider participating in a particular potential competitive boxing match, wherein said prior fight information includes who was a last person said user fought and how long ago, what is said user's win/loss record, and what is said user's desired purse size;

organizing said information received from said at least one boxer into an electronically searchable format; and

providing access to said information organized into an electronically searchable format to said boxer, to other boxers, and to third parties.

16. (original) The method according to claim 15, further comprising the step of selecting a location and opponent to box from among other participating boxers found within the information organized into the electronically searchable format.

17. (original) The method according to claim 15, further comprising the step of providing a listing of participating agents from which a boxer may select for representation.

18. (currently amended) The method according to claim 15, further comprising the step of ranking boxers based on information ~~data~~ to enable a participating boxer to select an opponent of similar or advanced informationability.

19. (currently amended) The method according to claim 15, further comprising the step of enabling a first boxer to challenge a second boxer to ~~[[a]]~~ the particular boxing match, wherein said second boxer may either accept or reject said challenge.

20. (original) The method according to claim 15, further enabling said information organized into an electronically searchable format to be accessed via a wide area computer network.

21. (original) The method according to claim 15, further comprising the step of establishing at least one web page for at least one of said participating boxers, which web page is viewable by selected of said third parties.

22. (currently amended) A system for coordinating a competitive boxing match comprising:

means for receiving prior fight information from at least one boxer regarding said boxer's willingness to consider ~~particular~~ participating in a particular potential competitive boxing match, wherein said prior fight information includes who was a last person said user fought and how long ago, what is said user's win/loss record, and what is said user's desired purse size; means for organizing said information received from said at least one boxer into an electronically searchable format; and means for providing access to said information organized into an electronically searchable format to said boxer, to other boxers, and to third parties.

23. (original) The system according to claim 22, further comprising means for selecting a location and opponent to box from among other participating boxers found within the information organized into the electronically searchable format.

24. (original) The system according to claim 22, further comprising means for providing a listing of participating agents from which a boxer may select for representation.

25. (currently amended) The system according to claim 22, further comprising means for ranking boxers based on ~~data~~information to enable a participating boxer to select an opponent of similar or advanced ~~ability~~ information.

26. (currently amended) The system according to claim 22, further comprising means for enabling a first boxer to challenge a second boxer to ~~[[a]]~~ the particular boxing match, wherein said second boxer may either accept or reject said challenge.

27. (original) The system according to claim 22, further means for enabling said information organized into an electronically searchable format to be accessed via a wide area computer network.

28. (currently amended) The system ~~method~~ according to claim 22, further comprising means for establishing at least one web page for at least one of said participating boxers, which web page is viewable by selected of said third parties.